SOLARTECH SOLUTIONS

Abundy Inc is in a joint venture partnership with Genoptic SolarTech Inc. that has developed its proprietary Solar Energy Capture System, which integrates Solar Harvesting, Housing, Inverter, Converter & Energy Storage System (Battery). This permits an increase in efficiency and a reduction in cost. There is also a dramatic 75% reduction in cost and time of installation.

Artificial intelligence and smart chip technology permit the energy management system to download energy at lower price and can be centrally controlled by a utility owner or individually controlled by a home owner on their smart phone. Maximum efficiency is noted between temperatures of  $-30^{\circ}\text{C}$  ( $-22^{\circ}\text{F}$ ) to  $+70^{\circ}\text{C}$  ( $158^{\circ}\text{F}$ ) as the system has a wide operational range. FCC and UL Certification is complete. Degradation testing is complete.

A JOINT VENTURE PARTNERSHIP

X

Genoptic has been into progressive technology development since 2007, dedicated to improving how the world powers and enhances electronic products through further developing and commercializing its already vast and growing Intellectual Property (IP) portfolio, which is based on its nano-optoelectronics breakthroughs.

These breakthroughs will completely transform technological advancements in such industries as Solar, LED lighting, Digital Displays, Life Sciences, Military, Agriculture, and the Internet of Things.

Just one of Genoptics many applications is within the Solar Industry, where it has already developed and patented the world's first fully integrated Artificial Intelligent Solar Smart Panel (solar harvesting, electronics, converter and battery storage) into a lightweight thin panel (only 19mm thick) that has over a 20% increase in overall output efficiency.
